

THE NAVY CPO Wives Club looking for white elephants to sell at the Pearl Harbor Youth Carnival. Pickups can be arranged by calling 433-3571. Wouldn't it be wild if somebody actually donated a real white elephant at one of these things? . . . Cherry Walner (of Cherry & Don, opening tonight at the Holiday Inn) strives to attain that magic combination of comedy and musicianship that spells success in today's nightclub act . . . Writer Otto Behrens of Berlin has written the NYB to get photos for an autobiography he's writing which includes a Hawaii chapter. He included a newspaper story he'd written (in German) on the Islands and the captions are something else: "Naturkuhle Kokosmilch," "Wellenreiten in der Waikikibucht," and "Kokospalmen auf der Insel Hawaii." . . . Girl watchers: A number of bikini-clad K-Bay Water Carnival Queen contestants are visiting the Aiea Park Shopping Center tomorrow . . . Discussing the Chinese table tennis victories over the U.S. team, David Watsonall

Cherry came up with the following suggestion: "Why don't we get Red China to send a football team over here and we'll let them play the Los Angeles Rams." . . .